

Would prefer the choice to refuse telemarketing calls. As it stands now I do not pick up the phone unless I know the person. I have to check my screen to see who it is. The only other option is to get a private listing. Why would they want to call people who do not want them to call? They need to respect people's right to refuse their phone calls.